TG names Jay Rhodes as new national account representative

Round Rock, Texas – Jay Rhodes is the newest addition to TG's national sales team, serving as the national account representative for student financial aid professionals in Illinois and Missouri.

Rhodes joins TG with 11 years of experience in the student financial aid community.

Prior to joining TG, he worked as the loan default manager at Harris-Stowe State College in St. Louis, Mo., where he played an integral role in lowering the school's cohort default rate by more than 60 percent. He also managed a $20 million student loan portfolio at St. Louis Community Credit Union. In addition, Rhodes has been an active member in MASFAA and MASFAP.

“Jay has a rich background in higher education and student financial aid, which will make him a great resource for the financial aid community in Illinois and Missouri,” said Margie Harvey, TG assistant vice president of strategic partnerships.

Rhodes can be reached at (800) 252-9743, ext. 2514, or by e-mail at jay.rhodes@tgslc.org.
